Shawano County Farm Bureau Scholarship Recipients

By Kristi Fiedler, District 7 YFA Representative

In 2013, Shawano County Farm Bureau Dairy Brunch committee decided that if income is earned from Brunch on the Farm it should go toward awarding two $500 scholarships each year. The applicants must have volunteered at the Shawano County Brunch on the Farm, demonstrate leadership in school or local organizations, be earning or plan to earn an advanced degree in agriculture and maintain good grades.

Ashley Bergsbaken accepted her scholarship.

The 2014 scholarships went to Lindsay Anderson from Gresham and Ashley Bergsbaken from Bonduel. Lindsay will be attending UW-River Falls in the fall and plans to be an ag education teacher. Ashley plans to earn a degree in communications and public relations from UW-La Crosse. Ashley has goals to be actively promoting agriculture through the State FFA committee and Alice in Dairyland. Congratulations to both Lindsay and Ashley for their current and future achievements!

Spring has finally arrived! We wish you all a safe planting season.

YFA Members! Mark your Calendars!

There are great opportunities for YFA members in District 7 to participate in district and state events. Remember that these activities are available to voting members ages 18-35.

Discussion Meet: The District 7 Discussion Meet has been set for Thursday, August 7 at the CRI Resource Center in Shawano. Dinner will be at 7 p.m. with the discussion starting at 8 p.m. The Discussion Meet is an activity designed to build crucial skills in young, active farmers and agriculturalists. By participating, members build basic discussion skills, develop a keen understanding of important agricultural issues and explore how groups can pool knowledge to reach consensus and solve problems. This year's topic is: How can young farmers and ranchers work to encourage membership growth and member engagement for the county, state and national Farm Bureau organizations?

Achievement Award: The ideal candidate(s) for the Achievement Award is an individual or couple involved in production agriculture with a majority of their income subject to normal production risks. Selection of the winning YFA competitor is based on his/her efforts in production agriculture and leadership achievement. Participation in this program with individual recognition and the resulting publicity will help build the organization. Applications are due July 1, 2014.

Excellence in Agriculture: The Farm Bureau Excellence in Agriculture Award Program is designed as an opportunity for YFA members, while actively contributing and growing through their involvement in Farm Bureau and agriculture, to earn recognition. Participants will be judged on their involvement in agriculture, leadership ability, involvement and participation in Farm Bureau and other organizations (i.e., civic, service and community). The ideal candidate(s) for the Excellence in Agriculture Award is an individual or couple who do not have the majority of their income subject to normal production risk. Applications are due July 1, 2014.

SHAWANO COUNTY FARM BUREAU EDITION

Shawano County OYF and Friends of Agriculture Awards Banquet By Tammy Styczynski

The 57th annual Shawano County Agricultural Awards Dinner and Banquet was held at The Main Event in Cecil on Friday, April 4.

The following awards were presented:

Outstanding Young Farmer: Jay and Angie Schultz have a 96-cow dairy farm and raise 380 acres of crops near Gresham. They raise all their own replacement dairy animals and grow alfalfa, corn, oats and winter wheat. All feed is harvested and fed to the dairy herd of Holsteins, Brown Swiss and Jerseys. The dairy herd is pastured during the seasonal months of the year. Jay is the fifth generation to farm the land. Jay and Angie have three children; Georgia (12), Leo (10) and Eli (7). They are members of the Gresham Town and Country 4-H Club, Shawano County Farm Bureau, Gresham FFA Alumni and the Miniature Horse Club. Jay and Angie thanked their families and the Farm Bureau for all the help and support they have been given.

Shawano County Friend of Agriculture was awarded to Gary Tauchen of Bonduel. Gary has dedicated his life to the needs of agriculture and is very active in many area organizations while serving as the Sixth District Representative in the State Assembly. Gary also updated the group on the most recent passing of the Implementations of Husbandry Bill and how it will affect farm equipment on the roadways.

The Second Miler this year is Roger Neumann of Krakow. Roger is active in the Junior Dairy Key Committee and the Small Animal Key Committee. He has been involved with volunteering at the Shawano County Fair for more than 34 years.

Tree Farmer of the Year went to the Jack Kucksdorf family from Red Springs. They own 77.5 acres of woodlands and some non-forest cover. The Red River flows through the eastern portion of the property. Tree Species that can be found growing on the property include red oak, sugar maple, basswood, white pine, aspen, balsam fir and black ash. Forest management began in 1979. Jack is a member of the Woodland Owners Association-Wolf River Chapter and hosted a field day last spring. Jack was very appreciative of the award and is devoted to educate family and friends about the principals he has learned.

Conservation Farmer was awarded to Allen Kohn who farms in the Angelica Township growing 500 acres of alfalfa and corn. He practices chisel plowing for means of tillage and maintains buffer strips to prevent soil erosion. Allen has done many improvements to the farm over the years which include: reconstruction of the cow yard to prevent manure run-off, an addition to the manure pit for ample manure storage of the 330 cow dairy herd. He also added eave troughs to barn roofs to help separate clean water in a grass filter run-off. Allen also planted more than 2,000 trees in a non-tillable area of his land. Allen attributes his business success to those who have helped him along the way; his family, deceased wife, Pat and his good employees.

Farm Bureau Scholarships were new to this year's banquet. The Shawano County Farm Bureau awarded two $500 Scholarships. Receiving those were Lindsay Anderson of Gresham and Ashley Bergsbaken of Bonduel. Lindsay will be studying agricultural education at UW-River Falls. #### Wisconsin Gardens Provide Many Food Choices for Us

Wisconsin gardens provide many different food choices for us. In order to grow fruits and vegetables you need to have the right weather. Vegetables such as lettuce and spinach are best grown between fifty and seventy degrees fahrenheit. Also, plants do like rainwater better than the city drinking water.

At my school during lunch, they give you many choices of different vegetables, such as tomatoes, radishes, carrots, and cucumbers. They also give us fruits such as pears, peaches, strawberries, and cherries. My favorite vegetables are tomatoes, green beans, and corn, and my favorite fruits are strawberries, oranges, and bananas.

At my house, my stepmom grows tomatoes to make her special salsa, and sometimes I help her. The best temperature for growing tomatoes ranges to about 65-85 degrees fahrenheit. My friend Stephanie grows tomatoes, but she also grows corn, green and purple beans, pumpkins, zucchini, green peppers, cinderella pumpkins, and more.

Some advantages of having your own garden is that it is much cheaper than buying fruits and vegetables at a store, there are no artificial preservatives, you can control the amount of sugar and salt, and you can choose the chemicals and fertilizer. to preserve the fruits and vegetables you can can it and keep it in a freezer.

The 2014 Farm Bill A guest column by Congressman Reid Ribble

Standing Up for Wisconsin Agriculture

As Wisconsin's lone member of the House Agriculture Committee, I have worked hard to be a voice for Wisconsin's agriculture, food and forestry sectors since I arrived in Congress. I took this responsibility seriously during the process of writing the 2014 Farm Bill.

While the road to final passage was long and complicated, I believe that the final product represents a step forward for Wisconsin agriculture. The 2014 Farm Bill will save taxpayers $23 billion from the previous bill. The bill eliminates direct payments to farmers who were previously paid regardless of market conditions, and it also repeals or consolidates nearly 100 additional programs.

Representing America's Dairyland, I am pleased with the dairy policy reforms included in the bill. The Farm Bill offers dairy farmers a voluntary margin insurance program that will help them manage risk and will work well for Wisconsin farmers of all sizes. I also worked with my Wisconsin colleagues to ensure that the bill did not include provisions that would have unfairly harmed Wisconsin farmers.

In the weeks and months ahead, I'll continue to be a voice for Wisconsin agriculture as Congress tackles issues ranging from energy to trade to transportation.

New Program-Our Food Link

Many of you might be familiar with a program called 'Food Check-Out Week'. Historically, this week has been used to celebrate the week that many families have earned enough income to buy their groceries for the year. As our Farm Bureaus are able to get more active and engaged and there are more opportunities to meet with consumers throughout the year, the American Farm Bureau Women's Leadership Committee worked hard to design a program that could meet the needs of Farm Bureau's that work tirelessly promoting agriculture all year at various events.

'Our Food Link', replacing Food Check-Out Week, is a year-round program that county and state Farm Bureau volunteers can use to effectively reach consumers of all ages and backgrounds with information about today's agriculture. The AFBF has designed a planning toolkit to help counties get started thinking about projects that will engage people in your community. It includes sample activity ideas, media outreach sample text, program graphics and plenty of room to customize Our Food Link to your area. You can find more information about this program online at: www.fb.org/index.php?action=programs.ourfoodlink.

If you have an idea to help promote one of the many agricultural commodities in Shawano County, please let us know. Maybe you're willing to host a farm tour for consumers, or maybe it is to write an article for the county newsletter to share more about what you do. Maybe you aren't a farmer and you've got questions about how things on farms work or you might be an agri-business owner willing to open up your doors and play host to some of our Young Farmer and Agriculturist members. Whatever your idea is, we'd like to hear it. Please feel free to email your comments to Mary Olson at maydofarms@granitewave.com or Wes Raddatz at wrraddatz@wfbf.com. Our Food Link is full of opportunities and we're looking forward to using them to make agriculture stronger in Shawano County!

Collect Pop Tabs for Ronald McDonald House

The Wisconsin Farm Bureau Women's Committee is collecting the little aluminum tabs from all kinds of cans: soda, pet food, fruits, vegetables and more. These tabs will be given to a Ronald McDonald house to be recycled in exchange for money. Each district will have a tub to put their tabs in at the WFBF Annual Meeting in Wisconsin Dells in December. Please have your family and friends save their tabs.

There will be several opportunities to collect these besides the WFBF Annual Meeting. You can bring them along to the Shawano County Brunch on the Farm (June 22), the Farm Bureau ice cream stand at the Shawano County Fair or the Shawano County Farm Bureau annual meeting (October 16). They may also be given to any member on the board.
